STUDENTS VS. FACULTY AT DIXIE LINKS

Pre-War Event Revived By Dr. Rutman.

THIRTY COUPLES UP.

Course In Fine Condition—Perfect Golfing Weather For Events.

For the first time since 1913 the students met the staff of the University in the friendly golf match which had become an annual event prior to the outbreak of the war. This year Dr. Rutman revived the event, with the result that thirty couples turned out at Dixie on Friday, and, armed with the usual bags of steel and wood implements, proceeded to indulge in the customary gymnastic antics which to the uninitiated appear so ludicrous but in reality go to form the basis of the most exhilarating and entertaining pastime in existence. The match was played on the three-point Nassau system of scoring, and ended in a very decisive defeat for the students, going to show that the art of golf is one that takes many years to acquire to any degree of perfection, and hence we would advise any undergraduate who looks forward to "taking up golf" after arriving at an age when all other forms of sport seem too strenuous, that if he wishes to save himself from being a disgrace to his club, the best thing he can do is to go out now into his back yard with his father's brassie and a ball tied to a piece of elastic and knock the same round for many hours a day till he at length reaches that happy state of proficiency whereby he can smite to his heart's content without either slicing, hooking, topping, or entirely missing the ball.

Friday morning dawned bright and clear, and nine o'clock saw the less fortunate of the contestants seated in the third glass smoker of the slow Grand Trunk local, the remainder having elected to travel along the beautiful Upper Lachine road in automobiles, motorcycles, Fords, push-wheels and the like. The course of the famous Royal Montreal club turned out to be in wonderful condition considering the lateness of the season, the fairways giving splendid brassie lies and the greens being keen and absolutely true. The only drawback experienced by many of the student contestants was the uncanny magnetism of the bunkers and water hazards for the average golf ball, the nibble being one of the most universally used clubs in the match.

TABLE D'HOTE AT UNION CAFETERIA

Convenient Institution Not Being Patronized As It Should.

What has happened to all the students who supported the Union Cafeteria during the first few days of the season? The attendance during the first week or so was most encouraging, and those who promoted this enterprise for the benefit of their fellow-students were led to expect great things of the Cafeteria. Their hopes are being disappointed, however, as during the last few days the attendance has been rapidly falling off. The Cafeteria is run entirely for the convenience of the students, and with the H. C. L. at its present dizzy heights, one would imagine that the average student would much prefer a moderately-priced meal eaten in the company of his fellow-students to a hastily snatched swallow at a noisy "ham and" counter.

In order to still further adopt themselves to the convenience and the purses of the student-body the management of the Cafeteria have decided to put up a Table d'Hote Breakfast at 55 cents, and Dinner at 45 cents, while at the same time continuing their present a la carte system for the convenience of those who do not desire a full meal. It is up to McGill men to help the Cafeteria if the Cafeteria is to continue to help them. Don't rush down town when you want a cup of coffee and a sandwich, come to the Union instead.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Tournament Will Be Held Three Days Starting Oct. 21st, At Kingston.

The Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament will be played off on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of October at Kingston, Ontario. Although this date was not acceptable to McGill, Toronto, Queens and R.M.C. decided that it was the only time open for them, and McGill had to fall in line and make the best of it. It was impossible to do otherwise.

The following men, as well as any others who are interested in this tournament, are asked to put in an appearance at 4.30 p.m. to-day at the tennis courts. The choice of teams to represent McGill at Kingston will be made this afternoon, and every man who wishes a chance for the teams must appear to-day. As this is the last tournament of the season, it is to be hoped that many will show up.

Green, Ward, Kramer, C. Ramsay, Powell, O'Halloran, especially, will please turn out.
The executive of the Tennis Club requests that the first round of the doubles tournament be played off as soon as possible. All men taking part in these games are asked to get them finished at their earliest opportunity.
The finals of the singles tournament were played off last week. The last games were between Green and Ward. Although both men played an excellent game, Green was especially brilliant after he had sufficiently warmed up. He outclassed his opponent, especially in the last set. The scores were:

Green, 6-4.
Green, 6-1.

RECEPTION AT THE R.V.C. WEDNESDAY

Societe Francaise Will Hold Informal Function.

The Societe Francaise extends to all the students of Royal Victoria College, and particularly to those of the first year, an invitation to an informal reception to be held in the Common Room at 4 o'clock on Wednesday next.

This society was founded to arouse and keep among the women students an interest in the French language and in French literature. With this end in view the society offers the privilege of active membership to those who have a keen interest in French, and wish to perfect their knowledge of it in a way that is not afforded in class. As membership is limited, all such applications must be in as soon as possible.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Hamilton Tigers beat Ottawa 18-16 at Ottawa.

Juniors Carried Day—Miss K. Cartwright Won Cup.

GRADS. REPRESENTED.

Dancing In "Gym." On Account Of Number Present.

On Saturday afternoon the usual quiet of the R.V.C. pansies was interrupted by strange proceedings. At 2.15 p.m. a long stream of girls in McGill sweaters poured forth from the building. Queenie Savage, the Athletic President, headed the line, followed by the Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and at the end the expectant audience was greeted with the McGill song, "Come Fill Your Glasses Up." This was followed by the R.V.C. yell. The following events then took place:

1—High Jump—Won by K. Cameron, 3 ft. 11 in. M. Froy and J. Henderson, second.
2—(a) Broad Jump—Won by K. Cameron, 7 ft. 5 in. Q. Savage, second. Miss A. V. Douglas, third.
(b)—Window Jump—Won by E. Snyder, 1 ft. 5 in. L. Levy and Ted Rough, second.
3—Throwing Basket Ball—Won by Miss J. Munro, 60 ft. 5 in. Q. Savage, 58 ft. 11 in., second.
4—100 Yards Race—Won by K. Cameron. D. Campbell second.
5—Old Girls Race—Won by Miss B. Abbott and Miss L. MacDonald.
6—Walking Race—Won by Q. Savage. Miss Douglas, second.
7—Relay Race—Won by 2nd year.
8—Obstacle Race—Won by 4th year.
9—Faculty Race—Won by Miss Cartwright. Miss Outred, second. Mrs. Downs, third.
10—Tug-of-War—Won by 3rd year. 1st year, second. 2nd year, third. Special mention is due to the Old Girls Race. It is not an easy matter to find old girls whenever they are needed; but they turned out with their Old College spirit. They did not even scorn running with an open umbrella, and suit cases; nor did they mind having to lace up their boots, put on sweaters and fasten on their gloves.

Special mention also is due to the Faculty Race. Six of the Faculty took part in it, threading needles and lighting candles in record time. It could easily be seen that the men were not used to threading needles, whereas their worthy opponents could light candles.

HARRIER CLUB TO MEET AT 5 P.M.

All Graduates and Undergrads Are Invited To Attend.

The first Harrier Club Meet of the season will be held this afternoon at 5. All men who intend to do any running this year are asked to be at the Stadium at that hour.

Previous running experience is not required. The runs will be progressive, both in distance and in pace—so the man who has never run before is offered an excellent opportunity for making a start.

Cross-country running affords one of the best possible means of keeping fit. Any men who take it up will find that it pays.

The Intercollegiate Run is to take place at McGill this year, and it is only by starting now that we can get into trim for carrying off the honors. The following men especially are asked to turn out:

Hamilton, Levitt, James, Biller, McPhail, Palmer, J. C. Antliff.

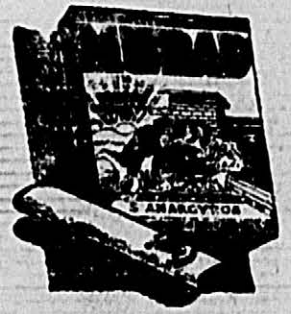

UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE.

The following members have been elected by acclamation to the Union House Committee:

E. Martin and C. P. Heber, Arts; Buchanan, Law; E. Penny and K. Eadie, Science.

The vote for Medical representative will be polled to-morrow. It is to be hoped that the students of this faculty will turn out to register their votes.

AN ORCHESTRA

The interest that is being taken this year in the revival of student activities at McGill augurs well for the future. This side of university life is almost if not wholly as important a part of our training as the purely academic side.

Among the many clubs which are coming once more into prominence, none merits more our whole-hearted support and encouragement than the McGill Students' Orchestra.

A university should stand for the best in every department of its undergraduate life. Such is the aim of the Orchestra in the realm of music. We mean this in no narrow or pedantic sense. The Orchestra recognizes that there are varying degrees of merit in musical compositions, and tries to select its repertoire so as to include as much of the better class of music as possible, having regard to the popular taste and its own probably very limited executive capacity.

If a success, the Orchestra will fill a long felt want. It must and will be a success if it receives the support it deserves at the hands of the students.

On the whole, however, nobody could have asked for more perfect weather and ground conditions and the game was universally enjoyed by one and all.

Owing to the fact that the standard of proficiency of each student was in most cases known only to himself, the players were not ranked in order of merit, but half a dozen of the most promising looking performers occupied the top of the list to compete with the cream of the Faculty aggregation, while the remainder were entered up as their names were drawn from a hat.

Considerable consternation was caused in the students' camp when it was found that the clubs of their star performer, Mr. J. H. H. Robertson (the only veteran of the 1913 match) had not reached the station by the time the train pulled out. On this account Mr. Robertson refused to play first man on the team, as he felt that he could not expect his customary brilliancy with a borrowed set of clubs. He was therefore relegated to second place, but very fortunately his boy arrived at the last minute with the missing clubs, having missed the train and journeyed out via the Lachine car and Shanks' Mare. Mr. Robertson was accordingly able to play his usual game, and managed to win his game with considerable aplomb.

Most of the matches, despite the universal and undisputed superiority of the Professors, proved very interesting, the top half-dozen being especially close. Mr. G. R. McCall managed to square his whelmish opponent with a splendid 18 on the outgoing nine, but Dr. P. S. Patch came back strong with a 19 for the last nine, losing out by only one point on the match. Mr. Gordon Reed, by recovering well after losing a point on the first nine holes, halved the second nine, losing two points in all, which was no disgrace against so redoubtable an opponent as Dr. A. A. Peters. Mr. M. Yates and Mr. L. Kert-Greene won their games by one point margins, but Mr. Chisholm, a promising young player, found Dr. A. S. Eve's experience too much for him, the latter playing with his customary steadiness in the pinches. Both Mr. Dawson and Mr. Kenney Parke played splendid games, winning their matches in handy fashion. Several Freshmen showed quite remarkable talent. Mr. Arthur winning three points from Dr. Finley, while Mr. Ward Allen, a coming player from Calgary, was 5 up and 4 on Dr. Barlow. Mr. Cavehill also exhibited mid-season form by winning from Dr. Cameron after a close struggle. Perhaps the most sensational match was that between Mr. Lyle Williams and Dr.

Sutherland. To be three down at the turn is enough to daunt the most optimistic player. But against these odds Mr. Williams by brilliant playing took six of the next seven holes, at the fifteenth (Hawthorn) hole sinking a thirty-yard putt for a beautiful two against his opponents three. Mr. Williams won his game by 3 to 2, adding one point to the students' score.

After the match the students were entertained at lunch in the historic old clubhouse by their opponents, and were able to catch the 1:56 train back to the city in time to witness the University sports. The student team as a whole expresses its warmest appreciation of a fine morning's golf and beg to tender a vote of thanks to Dr. Rutan and the rest of the winning team who did so much to make the event a success. We feel sure the match will now be firmly established as an annual affair, and many undergrads are already looking forward to putting a winning team in the field next fall.

GEOLOGISTS HOLD THIRD EXCURSION

Visit Cartierville and Vicinity—Sedimentary and Igneous Rocks.

CHAZY LIMESTONE.

Anorthosite Rock—Dykes Radiating From Mount Royal.

As announced at last Wednesday's lecture on Geology the third excursion of the class for this session was held in the vicinity of Cartierville. The distance between St. Catherine street and this riverside town was covered by following the directions given at the lecture and by using an excessive number of transfers.

Students who took the Windsor car around Westmount mountain avoided the excitement and difficulty encountered those unlucky ones who went up Park avenue. After a number of the latter, however, had resorted to transfers given out by the Montreal Tramways Co. within the last ten years all got under way and left Snowdon Junction on the Cartierville car for their destination.

At a point a short distance beyond the C.N.R. tracks the car suddenly came to a halt, and the order to stop was passed along. Here there is an outcrop of an igneous rock called anorthosite. This rock is very old and forms the foundation of a large part of Montreal Island. Anorthosite is composed largely of a basic plagioclase feldspar—called Labradorite—and grains of a dark mineral called augit. Sometimes garnet and titaniferous iron ores are found along with the rock. These ores are, as yet, of little value because they are very refractory and hence very hard to smelt. Nevertheless small quantities of very high grade steel have been prepared in an electric furnace and no doubt a commercial process will be found in the future whereby we may extract the iron and titanium. Anorthosite forms the bed rock of several large areas in the Laurentians, notably in the County of Terrebonne along the Saguenay River and in Labrador.

Near Cartierville this bed rock is covered by, first, a calciferous dolomite, then by a sandy dolomite and lastly over all, except the one small point of anorthosite, is a cover of chazy limestone. The fossils found in the chazy limestone are different from, and lived at an earlier period in geological time than those found in the Trenton limestone which covers the chazy nearer Montreal. The names of some of the fossils in the chazy are: orthids, rhynchonella, asaphus and orthasaphus; a large number of chirodoid remains are also imbedded in the rock.

The chazy limestone is broken through by dykes of rock of igneous origin. This rock contains hornblende and long needlelike crystals of this mineral were to be found clinging to the walls of the dykes.

LARGE NUMBER ATTENDED THE R.V.C. SPORTS

est uproar was the Tug-of-War. Here the McGill students could not refrain from cheering their own year, each one being sure his year was best. Though the Freshies' team was very strong, the Juniors managed to pull them over, and thus became the victors.

As at the beginning of the program a march was given by all the competitors so at the end. Preceding the march the students stood at attention and sang "Hail, Alma Mater." The McGill yell followed, after which all competitors marched into the R.V.C. Thus the sports gave way to a The Dansant. Tea was served in the dining-room, while the dancing took place in the Common Room.

After everyone had enjoyed three or four dances, the prizes were given out in the dining-room. The Individual Prize, a silver cup, was won by K. Cameron, who made fifteen points. Q. Savage came second in her number of points.

Miss Cartwright presented Miss Abbott and Miss McDonald with a small silver cup; and Mrs. Downs with a Teddy Bear, being the third prize of the Faculty Race.

Miss H. Nichol thanked the Old girls for turning out to the sports, and then announced that the dancing would continue in the gymnasium. Here, owing to its size, the dancers enjoyed themselves fully, and danced till 5 p.m.

STRONG TEAMS FROM TORONTO AND QUEEN'S

University Track Meet Here Next Saturday.

TICKETS AT UNION.

Rooters' Club and Band Will Appear Together For First Time.

Queens and Toronto both held their university Track meets last Friday, and both of them uncovered some excellent material from men before unknown to them. It appears that the McGill men will not have any too easy going at the meet next Saturday, and they will need the support of every student that can be mustered at the Stadium. The tickets are selling very rapidly among the graduates and outsiders who are coming solely because the games will provide some of the best competition seen in Canada in years; the men who are now wanted are students who will add the McGill team to carry off the honors.

The rooters' club will be on hand with many new songs, and it is expected that the band will turn out on that day for the first time this season. A special section of the grandstand has been reserved for the rooters and there position will not be bettered by the best of the reserved seats.

Stiff practices will be held every afternoon this week by the men who have been picked for the team to wear the Red and White, and they will all be in the pink of condition on the afternoon of the meet. Every division has men who will be hard to beat by anyone from the other universities. It was feared that we would be lacking in weight but the team has been greatly strengthened by the addition of two new men who have already shown some very good work at practices.

The Toronto team are taking no chances with their men, and will bring them down to Montreal on Friday evening so that they may rest up over Saturday morning and be in fit condition for the afternoon's work.

Reserved seats may be secured from the secretary of the Union at any time as may also the general admission tickets. Reserved tickets will be sold for $1.00, and general admission tickets for 75c. Students' tickets will be sold for 50 cents.

SPORTS AT QUEENS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Track Sports at Queen's last Friday afternoon were witnessed by a large crowd.

Throwing the hammer—1st, R. W. Frank, Arts; 2nd, C. H. Montrose.
Running high jump—1st, W. R. Frank.
Putting the shot—1st, W. R. Frank.
Broad jump, running—1st, W. R. Frank; 2nd, B. Poyser.
Hurdles, 120 yards—1st, W. R. Frank; 2nd, C. A. Loudon.
One mile race—1st, J. L. Murray; 2nd, G. D. O'Connor; 3rd, G. D. Malory.
Throwing the discus—1st, C. H. Montrose Indian Head; 2nd, J. W. Saylor.

The outstanding feature of the sports was the good showing of W. R. Frank, a student in Arts. He cleaned up five out of the ten events, being an all-round athlete. As Captain Frank, he won the championship of the O.M.F.C. at Seaford, England, against the many hundred entered for the sports there. He promises to make a stiff rival for W. R. Kennedy, Arts '22, in the Inter-University Meet.

The mile race was considered by the judges as one of the best at Queen's in recent years. Murray finished a bare foot ahead of O'Connor.

QUEENS FOURTEEN PROVED EASY STUFF FOR SHAUGHNESSY'S MEN ON SATURDAY IN KINGSTON; FINAL SCORE WAS 32-2

Red and White Line Held Like Iron While Laffoley Punted Half Length Of Field — "Monty" and Cape Played Up Well During First Half—Anderson Showed Form Towards Last—Gilhooley After 100 Yard Run Scored Touch—"Monty" Responsible For Two, Anderson For Other Two.

At 4 p.m. on Saturday last McGill and Queens lined up in Kingston for the second game in the Canadian Inter-collegiate series the result being a win for the Red and White. The weather was perfect; sunny with little wind, and as the teams entered the field hundreds of Queen's rooters who filled to capacity the new bleachers began a din of songs and yells which they continued intermittently until the very last minute of play. So great was the noise that both quarterbacks were forced often to repeat the signals several times before being heard by the men. Now and then could be heard above the clatter the old familiar M.C.G. from a few men, most of whom were in uniform awaiting their turn to get into the fun.

Soon after the game began, the respective merits of the two teams could be readily seen. A weakness in the Queens' wings was at once noticed, the Red and White breaking through time after time, to break up a play. Then, again, little difficulty was experienced in making yards, great holes being torn in their line for the passage of a scintilla of a yard.

Probably the biggest factor which contributed to the success of the visiting team was their line-work. Again and again the Kingstonians found themselves unable to penetrate the chain of red, and not once during the game did they succeed in blocking a kick. Without doubt one of the most spectacular parts of the battle was Laffoley's kicking; the piskin, shooting into the air and descending in long beautiful spirals, often landing far behind the goal-line for another point for McGill. Unfortunately, the Queen's kicker, McKelvey, was unable to be out and Carroll, who replaced him showed up rather poorly in comparison with Laffoley. Many times his kicks were so short that the backs came within twenty yards of the line to receive them.

The tackling on both sides was not beyond reproach, and many times players' necks were mistaken for their ankles by the tacklers.

Queen's backs seemed to be the strongest part of the team, and played well, but were never given much of a showing by the line. McGill's weak point was, on the contrary, in her back line. During the whole game fumbling seemed to be in order, and many a good opportunity for a long run was thus sacrificed.

The play began with McGill making substantial gains, Williamson and Cope going through for yards time after time. Line plunges seemed to prove most effective, and several times Seath ticked off twenty yards. It was at this age of the game that McGill began to lose the ball for offside interference, the referee, Malcolm, penalizing upon the slightest encroachment on the rule in that respect.

In the second quarter Cope who had been responsible for many gains, received a bad knock on the back, and was forced to come off. This was the occasion of one of the most unfortunate incidents in the game, and the action of the rooters reflects anything but credit upon the name of Queens. Wild jeers broke from hundreds when it was found that he would be unable to stay in the game.

During the third quarter, play on both sides was rather loose, and the play seemed backwards and forwards without any particularly brilliant work. One incident is worthy of mention on a fumble by Stewart, Gilhooley secured the ball in centre field, and after a spectacular run, succeeded in planting it between the Queen's goalposts.

Fortunately McGill recovered during the last period, a great improvement in the catching being manifest. Anderson and Monty both came back strong towards the end of the play, the former tackling on another five during the last minute.

The game started with McGill kicking off against a slight wind, Carroll returned to centre field, McGill lost the ball on the next play, however but recovered it when Queens punted on their second down. The Red and White lost no time in showing everybody what they could really do, for they began to smash through the opening line with seeming ease. Cope went through for a substantial gain, and Williamson followed with a twenty yard run around the side. This brought the ball well within Queens' territory, but McGill lost the ball on a fumble, regaining it when Carroll kicked to Anderson. At this point the visitors plunged through the opposing line time after time, repeatedly gaining territory. In this manner they soon worked the ball down to the home team's 25 yard line when Montgomery plunged through a broken field and crossed the goal line after a splendid run, thus opening up the scoring for McGill when the game had only been going a few minutes. Laffoley failed to convert the try.

During the next part of the game, McGill seemed to have no difficult in smashing through for large gains, but they failed to develop their numerous chances, owing to some very careless playing in handling the ball, as well as to the strictness with which the referee enforced the interference rules. The visitors attempted several bucks, during which Elliot received a kick on the head that necessitated play being delayed till he could get back into the game.

Following an exchange of punts, Anderson lost the ball to Queens. Evans tried an inside kick, but after a considerable scramble, McGill managed to secure the piskin. Cope and Anderson plunged through for good gains, but owing to interference, the ball was given to Queens, who punted. The visitors gained their yards, but again lost the ball on interference. Carroll booted to Williamson. On the first down, Cope broke through for a substantial gain, but on the next play they lost the ball on a fumble. Queens punted to Williamson who dropped the ball, and following up their advantage, they kicked again to "Norm" who was tackled close to the goal line. Laffoley booted the ball out of danger on the third down and Carroll returned, McGill gaining on the exchange. The Red and White now put in some good work, when Williamson ran around the end for ten yards, and Cope and Montgomery broke through twice in succession for yards. This brought the ball close to the teams line, but at this point McGill was penalized ten yards for offside interference. Queens punted to Williamson at centre field. Bowman was put off for rough work and shortly afterwards time was called for the end of the first period. Score McGill 5, Queens 0.

Laffoley started the second quarter by kicking. After failing to gain Queens punted on their last down. Bowman came on again, and Harris was injured, being replaced by Blackman. Notman plunged through for a good gain. The ball was now near Queens' goal line, and on the next play Montgomery went right through the centre for a try, which Laffoley succeeded in converting. This was an especially fine piece of work, not only on "Monty" part but also on the part of the scrim men, in fact, during the whole game, the manner in which the McGill line was tearing holes in the opposing scrimmage was especially good, showing that they had profited from the thorough instruction that Shaughnessy has given them in this department of the game.

The game was resumed with Queens kicking off, Williamson returned to Elliot. The home team were not given a chance to get started with any of their plays as the McGill wings were always there to break up their plays, following an exchange of punts, the visitors obtained possession of the ball on a fumble, but they lost on the next play. Carroll booted to Williamson, who was laid out in a hard tackle. The game was delayed till he recovered. Laffoley punted, and Queens returned to Williamson, who fumbled, losing the ball to the opposing team. At this point, another punting duel resulted in Queens getting hold of the piskin on a fumble at the visitors' 25 yard line. Carroll booted to Laffoley, who returned. Seath broke up an attempted end run by Queens for a loss, and Carroll kicked on the third down to Williamson, who lost the ball, the Kingston men thus getting possession again. "Dud" Ross blocked an attempted kick, and the ball was recovered by Queens at centre field. Then another exchange of punts took place, following which Carroll tried to get a drop kick between the posts, but failed, Williamson running the ball just in front of the McGill line. Laffoley punted, and in attempting to do the same, Queens kicked into the scrimmage, losing the ball. Laffoley booted the piskin again, and the return by Carroll was blocked, the visitors getting possession as a result. Then followed another exchange, which resulted in Laffoley punting a long one behind the opposing teams' dead line, counting one more point for McGill. Immediately afterwards, half-time was called, with the score standing 12-0 for McGill.

PLEASED WITH TEAM.

"Shag"

The third quarter started with the home team kicking off. Cope, who had received an injury to his back and shoulder, was replaced by Hall, following an exchange of punts, Anderson fumbled, losing the ball to Queens, and on the first down Carroll booted one to Laffoley who was forced back for a safety touch, this being the first and only score against McGill.

On the resumption of play, Williamson got away to a twenty five yard run around the end. Aitchison retired from the game with a broken collar bone. Skils replaced him. At this stage, a great deal of loose play was indulged in by both teams, following which Williamson was put off for several minutes. A number of punting duels took place, leaving the ball near the centre of the field. Bowman and Ambridge were put off for fighting. Following this, Laffoley kicked to Stewart, who fumbled, and Gilhooley grabbed the ball and raced from near centre field across the line for a try, Laffoley failed to convert.

At this stage good conditions began to tell, and Queens' were weakening. Following several exchanges of punts Seath obtained the ball from an outside kick and ran it up close to the home team line, and on the next play Anderson rushed over for a try, which Laffoley converted. McGill kept on pressing and in a short while Laffoley booted one over for a safety touch, making the score 25-2 for McGill. Closely following this, the Red and White secured another point when Queens was forced to rouge.

At the commencement of the fourth quarter Nicholson replaced Gilhooley, and Carruthers went on in place of Bowman. Queens gained their yards twice in succession, but lost the ball when Evans fumbled. McGill obtained the ball from an outside kick but lost it for interference, and following an exchange of punts, Laffoley booted the piskin for a rouge. Queens kicked and after "Monty" and Notman had got away for good gains, a combination play between Montgomery, Laffoley and Anderson resulted in the latter going over for a try, which was not converted. This ended the scoring, as time was called shortly afterward.

UNUSUAL RESULTS MARK AMERICAN COLLEGE GAMES

Princeton Scored Big Victory Against Rochester — Pittsburgh Defeated For First Time Since 1914 — Colgate Beat Ithaca 21-0 — Lafayette Defeated Harvard — Williams Overcame Columbia 25-0.

The third series of games of the American University Football Eleven was played off Saturday in the different college-towns of the United States.

The fighting football eleven of Boston College placed an indelible blot on Yale's football escutcheon this afternoon in the Yale bowl when Frank Cavanaugh's Maroon Jerseyed team staged the gridiron sensation of the season by beating the Elis in a bitterly fought game by a score of 5 to 3. It was the first time that Boston has ever played in blue, and the athletes from the Hub gave the bulldog a surprise which will long be remembered.

It was Fitzpatrick who brought victory to the Boston team in the final Yale's favor, he booted a field goal period when, with the score 3 to 2 in through the uprights with amazing accuracy from the 45 yard line. That one pendulum-like swing of Fitz's left foot spelled Yale's defeat. The big blue forwards desperately tried to break through and block the kick. With the charge of the Yale line the lighter Maroon forwards rose to meet the onslaught.

The Princeton Tiger helped himself to his most filling feast of the current season Saturday by rolling up a score of 24-0, against the University of Rochester light-weight eleven, at Princeton. The victory was due to the weakness of the Rochester team rather than to any strength of Princeton's.

The Syracuse University Football eleven was the first since November 1914 to defeat the Pittsburgh University Panthers. They defeated them 24-3 on Saturday afternoon at Syracuse. Dartmouth scored a victory of 19-13 against Penn State on Saturday by ability to gain through the line and long punts from the toe of Jim Robertson, the Dartmouth half-back. The Score was tied at the end of the second half. In the last half Dartmouth steadily took the lead, winning finally with the score at 19-13.

With one of the fastest and most versatile backfields seen here in years, a powerful offensive that forced the fighting from the very beginning. Colgate triumphed over Cornell on Schoellkopf Field Saturday by the score of 21-0. The largest early season crowd in local football history saw Cornell go down to defeat, fighting stubbornly at times blindly, overpowered by the fast running of Anderson and Watkins and the hard hitting Gillo and Baird.

The Ithaca team was absolutely outplayed. Bewildered by brilliant forward attack, but out-gamed, Ithaca fought to the last. At times their defense proved equal to the task, but they were plainly inferior in knowledge of the game and resources to meet the Colgate methods, or the physical power and skill to successfully withstand the speedy drive of the rapid-moving, quick-stepping, slippery and elusive Anderson and Watkins and the hard hitting Gillo. The Colgate team, as it played Friday, ranks high. It was on the offensive practically all the time.

Coach Sutherland's Lafayette College eleven its second victory of the year on March Field, overwhelming the light Haverford College team by the score of 41-0. The visitors could do nothing with the Lafayette line, and their only gains came through the use of six successful forward passes.

SCORED TWO TRYS.

Montgomery

The Lafayette backs on the other hand virtually gained at will through the Haverford line. Quarterbacks Siged, Seaman, and Smith used only straight formations saving the new plays for the annual game with the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia next Saturday.

Nearly 12,000 people squeezed their way into South Field to see the Williams College football team defeat Columbia University by the score of 25-0. About a thousand more would be spectators were turned away at the gates, after the police reserve had been called out to stop the concerted rush of the fans. Not since the old days when the Blue and White was a contender in the most exclusive collegiate football circles have such scenes of excitement been enacted on Morningside Heights.

Williams won chiefly because its eleven knew more football, and contained one or two individual stars who could stage the spectacular at the psychological moment. In weight and general speed the two teams, were evenly matched and Columbia gained almost as much ground by straight rushing as the New Englanders.

Throughout the first half it was practically an even battle. At the very start of the second half, however the star of the game suddenly burst into view in the most sensational manner possible. This was when Captain Bennie Boynton of Williams, the agile quarter back so generally picked for All American Honours in 1917. Caught Applebaums' kick-off on his own 10-yard line and dodged his way through the entire Blue and White team for a run of 90 yards and a touch-down. After that, it was largely a Williams affair.

MED. UNDERGRADUATES MEETING
The opening of what promises to be an interesting and productive season in the history of the Medical Society, will take place this evening at 8.15 p.m. sharp. The meeting will be held as usual in the Assembly Hall in the New Medical Building. Being the first meeting of the session there will be naturally certain elections and other business to get through. The principal event of the evening, however, will be an address from Prof. Whittrill, professor of Anatomy, who will recount some of his experiences in the war. As this will furnish all the Medical years an opportunity to get acquainted with Prof. Whittrill and one another, a large attendance is expected from all the years. Refreshments will be served as usual.

MT. HOLYOKE KEEPS DAY
Mt. Holyoke College observed Founder's Day on Wednesday. William Alan Neilson, president of Smith College, spoke at the morning exercises at 10.30 o'clock in Mary Lyon Chapel. His subject was, "Is It a New World?"

LARGE GATHERING AT WESTERN CLUB

Attendance Of Seventy At Opening Meeting Indicates Bright Future For the Club.

R. S. O'Meara, '21, newly elected chairman of the temporary executive which is to control for the time being the destinies of the Western Club, when interviewed by the "Daily" on Saturday was very optimistic about the future of the club. "We had an enthusiastic meeting on Thursday night," he said. "There were over 70 on hand, and from the room assigned to us upstairs we had to migrate to the Auditorium downstairs to get breathing space, which for an inaugural meeting is a hopeful sign. We purposely didn't have much to say in Friday's "Daily," for we knew it would only reach a few, and we want to reach not a few but the whole crowd. We want every Westerner at McGill a member of the club, and we want every Westerner to do his share towards bringing the club back to its old standing. There is no reason why it shouldn't be the most flourishing Social Club in the University."

With O'Meara on the Executive are: H. T. Emery, Sec. '20 (secretary); T. Porter at the Union.

TRACK TEAM.
The following men are asked to be out at the Stadium at four o'clock to-day. A track captain will be elected and a practice held. Men who have lectures after four o'clock are asked to turn out and arrangements will be made with the various faculties whereby they will be given their attendance. Kennedy, Antliff, Foss, Hamilton, King, Hay, Gnaedinger, Mullen, Hall, MacLellan, Notman, McDonald, Wells, Kyle, MacNider, Dickie and James.

Jones and R. S. Hamilton (committee from Medicine); C. P. Creighton (from Science); and H. Bunt (from Arts). They will remain in office only until plans can be made for election of permanent executive. Meantime the main object is for members of the club to get to know each other, and to this end it is hoped shortly to hold a smoker, at the close of which meeting probably nominations will be called for the different offices.

TORONTO ARGONAUTS WIN FROM M. A. A. BY 4 TO 3

Kicking Strong Feature Of Play — Jacques Injured — Kick Just Before Last Whistle Gave Toronto the Game
—Cleghorn and Laviolette Held Motorcycle Race Between Periods.

The visions of the championship which the M.A.A.A. team have been having of late receded somewhat when they met the Toronto Argonauts on Saturday and were defeated by a score of 4-3. An unusually large crowd had turned out to see the team and the odds were in favor of the Montreal squad at the beginning of the game. Neither of the teams were able to give a really good exhibition of the game of rugby, and most of the play consisted in kicking, in which the M.A.A.A. half-backs excelled.

The first scoring was done shortly after the opening of play when Jacques kicked the ball to the deadline from near centre field for a rouge, giving the old and blue team advantage of 1-0. The play then was forced down to the Montreal line and it looked as if it would go over but Jacques saved the situation with a beautiful punt. Garrett tried to outdo the crack Montreal halfback at punting but lost in almost every exchange; in one case when O'Brien tried to return a kick he was tackled by Peary in the act, and was injured so badly that he was forced to leave the game. Jacques was kicking over the heads of the Argonauts' halfbacks and was forcing the ball down near their line. The quarter ended with the ball on the Toronto line.

M.A.A.A. improved in their back plays after the second quarter started and gained their yards several times. Botstons was hurt in a scrimmage but continued playing after Dr. Shirley Lawson revived him. In the excitement of the scrimmage plays several of the men were sent off for mixing it up too freely. Offside interference gave Argos a chance at the ball and they booted play to near the Montreal line. They again attempted to kick but were unsuccessful and several of the players were chased to the bench for roughing it. On the third down Garrett kicked and Barwick was forced to rouge. Score: M.A.A.A., 1; Argos, 1. On the first down Garrett secured the ball and kicked and Jacques was forced to rouge making the score: Argos, 2; Montreal, 1, just as half time was called.

Between periods Sprague Cleghorn and Jack Laviolette amused the spectators with a three mile motorcycle race in which the former had a slight lead at the finish.

Jacques came back on the field for the second half with a limp as a result of an injury received at the end of the second quarter. However, he started to punt immediately the play opened and soon the scrimmage was on the Argos line. Garrett attempted to kick the ball out of danger but it went into the scrimmage and he was forced to rouge. Score—M.A.A.A., 2; Argos, 2. A kicking duel started between Garrett and Jacques which ended by the latter kicking the ball to the deadline for a point, making the tally—M.A.A.A., 3; Toronto, 2. Frank McGill was sent off and the Montreal line was disorganized until he returned. Thompson was easily the best player on the Montreal team during this quarter and Botstons made some nice runs for Toronto. The quarter ended without any further score.

Jacques could not play any longer with his injured leg and he was replaced by Brophy. He was a poor substitute and immediately the M.A.A.A. squad began to lose ground. Garrett easily outkicked Brophy and scored a point in quick order by kicking to the deadline. Score 3-2.

It looked as if the game would last overtime and the crowd was calling on Montreal to score and end the match. Garrett was doing all the work for Argos by kicking and finally got near the Montreal line. A long kick was sent over near him and he had every chance to kick, but he began to run for the line. With his run went M.A.A.A.'s chance for the game he was tackled for a rouge just before the whistle blew for the end of the game giving it to Toronto by a score of 4-3.

PACIFIC-INDIAN OCEAN'S DEFENCE

Will Be Result Of Lord Jellicoe's Imperial Tour.

In the middle of August cable messages from Britain to Australia indicated clearly to the Australian that an Empire naval partnership on a new scale would certainly follow Lord Jellicoe's imperial tour.

L. C. Amery, Under Secretary for the Colonies, pointed out at a luncheon in London to Senator Pearce, Australian Minister of Defence, that Australia was alongside the teeming millions of Asia and was jointly responsible with Canada and South Africa for the defence of the Pacific and Indian oceans. It would be impossible, he said, in future to defend the Empire from Great Britain. The command of the seas required an Imperial naval system with a fully equipped base, including provision for shipbuilding, in every ocean, and Australia, Canada, South Africa and other parts of the Empire should be each capable of building and manning its own fleet.

Of equal importance with Mr. Amery's disclosure of policy was a statement made by "a high naval authority" to a representative of the Australian Press Association. He said that Lord Jellicoe's recommendations as to the amount of sea power necessary for Great Britain to maintain eastward of the Suez would be of paramount importance, because the Admiralty regarded this region as the next danger zone, although no trouble was anticipated for perhaps a few years. Much stronger naval forces than hitherto were likely to be stationed in Australian and New Zealand waters.

The Admiralty said the authority, would probably supplement local dominion navies with ships necessary to insure Empire security, and all naval operations would probably be dealt with by a permanent Imperial navy board on which a representative of each dominion would sit. This board would periodically visit the dominions and would sit with the local naval boards in Melbourne and Wellington in order to consider details of Australian and New Zealand defence. There would probably be a greater exchange of officers between the home and dominion fleets.

The authority quoted considered that Lord Jellicoe would probably report in favor of a great Pacific fleet, consisting of Indian, South African, Australian, New Zealand and Canadian units, capable of operating under a single command.

DRIVE BY UNIVERSITY

The board of trustees of Northwestern University has announced that a campaign is to be started at once to raise $25,000,000 for a Chicago campus, new buildings in Evanston and Chicago and higher salaries for the faculty. The university is now located for the most part in Evanston, a suburb to the north. It is planned to purchase nine acres of which new buildings to cost $4,450,000. The board announces the receipt of a gift of $500,000, the largest in the history of the institution, and another of $500,000.

SALVAGING SHIPS

It is announced at the State Department that the British are raising a number of warships sunk at Scapa Flow by the Germans. The Baden, a battle cruiser, the Frankfurt, Nuremberg and Emden, light cruisers, and 15 destroyers, have been floated, and three other destroyers probably will be raised soon.

The Daily is not responsible for the not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to obsarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editor of the "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir:
Many students have written to you deprecating the present lethargy of the Freshmen-Sophomores and the absence of a rush or some other mode of determining the rivalry between the first two years. Now, although there is a method of gauging their respective athletic abilities on the Freshman-Sophomore Field Day, there is no way of judging the literary or intellectual attainments of both years. To encourage rivalry in this respect I would suggest a literary and musical interesting and a programme to which both years would contribute. A debate, I think, would be an essential of such a programme; and the other features could be supplied by both years. To stimulate further interest a cup might be given to either year. If it was found impossible to represent both years adequately at one meeting, a few such meetings might be held throughout the year and a cup given to the year that succeeds in winning the aggregate points. Instead of stirring up any ill-feeling, these meetings would furnish a common meeting-place where both years would learn to know each other better.

Yours truly,
A. F.
Ed. Note.—We are forced to call the attention of the student body to the above paragraph with reference to the signature of articles for publication under the correspondence heading.
If those gentlemen who have sent in unsigned letters during the past week will call at the office and identify their productions we will be pleased to publish them.

SEEK WORK IN TEXAS

An average of 100 laborers are called for daily at employment bureaus along the border for work on farms and ranches in the west, according to immigration authorities. There are plenty of Mexicans in Chihuahua willing to enter the United States to work, but they are unable to enter without long delays because the number of immigration and customs employees is insufficient to examine them.

Two hundred families came to Juarez recently from various parts of Chihuahua, most of them desiring to enter the United States, and most of them were delayed in getting across. Railroad travel has been resumed into Juarez, hence the influx.

MANY STUDENTS PRESENT AT SING

Refreshments Served By Committee—Blazing Fire
—Good Music.

The third Sunday night sing was held in the Reading Room of Strathcona Hall last evening. Cap had a cheery blaze going in the fireplace and by nine o'clock over fifty students were seated in the comfortable chairs provided.

Singing commenced at 8.00 p.m.
sharp with Findley of first year Medicine at the piano, and Britton conducting the gathering. The first selection was "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." Everybody joined wholeheartedly in singing the following hymns:—"Lead Kindly Light," "Work For the Night is Coming," "Faith Of
Our Fathers," "Some Day the Silver
Chord Will Break," "When the Mists Have Rolled in Splendor," and many other old favorites.

A rest was now called to give the singers a chance to recover their breath and to drink the excellent coffee which only Cap. Aylward knows how to prepare. Cake of assorted kinds was also served by the members of the reception committee, who had spared no effort to make the sing a success.

When everybody had refreshed themselves and the empty cups had been removed, all were able to resume singing with undiminished vigor.
During this period the following hymns were sung to the accompaniment of the Reading Room piano:—"Abide With Me," "Yield Not to Temptation," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Sun of My Soul," "Oh, Could I Speak the Matchless Worth," and many others.

After singing the National Anthem and Hall, Alma Mater, the sing broke up until next Sunday evening.

Accident To Dr. D'Avignon — W. S. Lighthall G.W.

ern Provinces.

While hunting moose near Stony Cliff, Dr. Francis J. D'Avignon, Med.
'09, of Lanke Placid, N.Y., was shot in the side by the accidental discharge of his guide's gun and is now in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where he is expected to recover.

Dr. D'Avignon left Lake Placid three weeks ago to accompany a hunting party to Quebec. He was with his guide ten miles from camp when the gun was discharged, the bullet striking him above the hip. He was taken to the camp and thence rushed to Montreal, where two specialists were called into consultation. It was found that the bullet struck no bones and had injured no vital organs.

The following March he returned to
